Disability Day 2011

GA State Capitol

www.braininjurygeorgia.org

Thank you to the BIAG representatives and volunteers who helped to make Disability Day at the Georgia State Capitol a success. Over 2,500 disabilities were present representing various organizations, but BIAG stood out among them with the blue theme of BIAG hats, balloons, bandanas and t-shirts. Mardi-Gras beads, with BIAG buttons attached, were distributed and helped to raise awareness to everyone present. BIAG members from north, south, east and west came to let their voices be heard, their faces seen. Letter writing campaigns were conducted by every support group in the weeks leading up to the Disability Day event - asking their local representative to attend. Representative Jerguson, Waring Jackson's representative and an up and coming political figure, came out and spoke in support of BIAG and with raising awareness about the thousands of brain injuries around the state. Over 70 BIAG supporters came out to help raise awareness about Brain Injury throughout Georgia!
